Future Lion Day

On Saturday, November 11, the Lindenwood University community welcomed around 680 prospective Lions and their families to campus for the inaugural Future Lion Day open house. Prospective students and their guests met at the Scheidegger Center at 9 a.m. to discover what makes Lindenwood “like not other.”

Prospective students had the opportunity to:

- Visit with faculty, staff, and current students at the academic and activities fair
- Hear from Lindenwood System President Michael D. Shonrock
- Learn more about the admissions process and financial aid.
- Experience our beautiful campus through student-led tours
- Enjoy free admission to the Lindenwood Lions football game

While Future Lion Day was a great, and successful, first visit, prospective Lions are encouraged to schedule an individual campus tour. During that time, they can have in-depth conversations with an admissions counselor, interact with faculty members, visit a class, and spend time with our student ambassadors. Please visit the Lindenwood website and select the “prospective students” tab for more details.

Lindenwood Freshmen Council

First-Year Programs is excited to introduce a new initiative being rolled out for freshmen at Lindenwood University. The Lindenwood Freshmen Council, a new involvement opportunity for first-year students, began its inaugural year earlier this semester.

The Lindenwood Freshmen Council exists to provide freshmen students a voice in molding and shaping first year programming. This council has been charged with planning and implementing signature freshmen programs, creating a sense of community amongst the class of 2021, and providing deliberate input to University staff regarding transitional and academic support programs for first-year students.

The Council, made up of 25 freshmen students, meets once a month and is busy planning for the year ahead. The Council will be hosting and supporting the following events/initiatives:

~National Mentoring Month
