STUDENT SPOTLIGHT: Emma Hubbell

“Coming into Lindenwood as a freshman I knew I wanted to be super involved. I committed to Lindenwood for cross country and track and then continued to get involved. I am a member of the Delta Zeta sorority as well as a bible study leader for InterVarsity which is a Christian organization here on campus. I am also involved with the Disabled Athlete Sports Association which is a local non-profit organization where I started as a volunteer and am now an Intern.”

“Pleasure in the job puts perfection in the work.”

PROFESSOR SPOTLIGHT: Dr. Krista Tucciarone

“The last campus initiative I served was called VIP or Values In Practice.

The 12 VIP Leads were selected for our clear dedication to the mission and vision of Lindenwood University.

The purpose of the program is to shine a light on what makes Lindenwood unique and to keep the university aligned with our values; values drive behaviors that reinforce our Lindenwood culture.

With all VIP hands-on deck, we rewrote Lindenwood’s Values.

A year later, the VIP Leads presented the new values to our Lindenwood Family: clan meaning teamwork, adhocracy or creativity, hierarchy meaning integrity and excellence, and market or service and dedication.”

STORIES FROM THE ARCHIVES

“Did you know that between the 1920s and 1950s Lindenwood had a golf course on campus for the exclusive use of its students? While smaller than most modern-day golf courses, this 18 hole course was located in the area where Cobbs, Irwin, and McCluer Halls are located, over to the where the Old Water Tower used to stand.”
