

2017-2019 BOARD OF CERTIFICATION (BOC) EXAM INFORMATION

The Board of Certification (BOC) is the only accredited certification program in the United States for athletic trainers. The Lindenwood University Athletic Training Program is designed to prepare students not only for the BOC certification exam, but also for careers as highly skilled athletic trainers who possess the necessary knowledge and skills to meet the demands of this competitive profession. Once certified, students can register in their respective state and seek employment in secondary schools, colleges and universities, professional sports, sports medicine clinics, and industrial/military settings.

The chart below illustrates one of the most important outcomes of our program, BOC performance.
