

Common Sense Economics For Educators Workshop

Make Learning Economics
Engaging, Relevant and Fun!

A special workshop for the School of Education

Perfect for education faculty, adjunct instructors, graduate students, alumni, and local educators.

Learn how to help students understand their world and make wise choices. Discover how to use economics to develop students' critical thinking, higher-order analytical skills, and life skills. Strengthen your understanding of economics. Receive innovative resources, practical classroom applications, and standards-based lessons for different grade levels. Learn how economics can benefit students and integrate across the curriculum.

October 4, 2019

9 a.m. - 3 p.m.

Lindenwood University

Harmon Hall 121

209 South Kingshighway, St. Charles, MO 63301

Benefits

- $0 cost (continental breakfast and lunch included)
- Substitute teacher reimbursement available upon request of participating districts
- 6 professional development hours
- Option to earn graduate credit from Lindenwood University (additional fee)
- Useful resources and strategies
- Creative classroom applications
- Networking with local educators

Registration & Info

- www.econed.center
- Register by September 27, 2019

Questions?

- Email eec@lindenwood.edu
- Call 636-949-4138

School of Education
ECONOMIC EDUCATION CENTER
AT LINDENWOOD

LINDENWOOD
UNIVERSITY